

Who are we?

We are a high-tech biotechnology startup company, located in the Lingang biotech park in Shanghai, and focused on development and commercialization of new generation of medical and wellness substances for treatment of incurable diseases.

Why Us?

Targeting Incurable Diseases

We invent and produce new technology and new substances for treatment of cancers, viral infections, antibiotic resistant bacterial infections, and other incurable diseases.

Our Results

Our products produce results in treatments of many incurable diseases for which treatments are not available or no results can be achieved.
